Prayer has been defined as: The contemplation of life from the highest point of view—a spiritual or wholistic viewpoint. Join me now in lifting your spirit to the highest level of wisdom and love. Breathe deeply the breath of life and rest for a moment as you inwardly acknowledge the spirit of life living through you.

Living loving God, we rejoice in this day and the work You have chosen us to do. We give thanks for the spiritual abilities, the gifts, we each have to contribute to the world. Throughout this day help us be mindful of Your divine will of good for all people. Guide and direct our thoughts and actions toward decisions that bless, heal, and uplift our human family.

Just as the Lone Star forever shines over Texas, we know the light of God surrounds us, the love of God enfolds us, the power of God protects us, the presence of God watches over us. Wherever we are, God is, and all is well. So it is.

STATEMENT OF LEGISLATIVE INTENT

Senator Harris of Dallas submitted the following statement of legislative intent on S.B. 348:

The purpose of S.B. 348 is to facilitate the development and expansion of municipal airports throughout the state which serve two or more populous home-rule municipalities. At present there is one such airport (the Dallas/Fort Worth International Airport), whose expansion plans have to date been frustrated by local zoning regulations and by court decisions which have found a lack of clarity in the existing provisions of the Municipal Airports Act.

The expansion of DFW Airport is of vital importance to the entire State of Texas. DFW Airport is the state's principal transportation hub; it serves twenty-four Texas destinations, over half of all Texas air travelers, and over 60 percent of all Texas air cargo, and constitutes the largest Texas gateway for international travelers. Without prompt expansion of DFW Airport, increasing levels of air traffic congestion will not only inconvenience Texas citizens, but will cause flights, jobs, and economic development opportunities to be diverted to other non-Texas airports.

Although the current problems which face DFW Airport have provided the immediate impetus for S.B. 348, the bill has been drafted broadly to apply not only to DFW Airport but also to other municipal airports which may in the future serve two or more populous home-rule municipalities. In this way, the bill attempts to avoid repetition of the destructive interlocal conflict which has plagued DFW Airport and its neighboring municipalities, without the necessity for additional legislation in the future after another such conflict has escalated to a point requiring legislative intervention.

The differentiations made in S.B. 348 attempt to distinguish between those situations which should be addressed by statewide legislation and those which can safely be left to local resolution. For example, most provisions of the bill apply only to municipal airports which are operated by two or more municipalities through a joint board. The fact that an airport serves two or more municipalities tends to indicate that it is a regional, and not merely a local, air transportation center. Moreover, this fact makes it more likely that the jointly operated airport will be outside the boundaries of the operating municipalities and therefore subject to the type of interlocal conflicts which are addressed by the bill.

The population threshold (400,000) used in the bill to determine populous home-rule municipality status serves to identify airports whose operating municipalities are among the largest in the state. Just as these largest municipalities play a vital role in the economic vitality of the state, their airports necessarily constitute transportation centers of statewide importance. The safe and efficient operation of the state's air transportation system dictates that the operation and expansion of such airports should proceed unhindered by municipal zoning ordinances and similar land use regulations.

Thus S.B. 348 will apply to the Midland/Odessa International Airport when in the future those cities reach populous home-rule municipality status. It likewise would apply to any municipal airport jointly operated by the cities of Austin and San Antonio should those cities choose to establish such an airport. Finally, the bill would apply to any other municipal airport operated by two or more populous home-rule municipalities.

We are aware of the constitutional prohibition against local or special legislation regulating the affairs of counties, cities, towns, wards, or school districts. The differentiations contained in this bill are intended to serve the legitimate purposes described above. We have successfully resisted amendments to the bill when, in our opinion, such amendments would have created irrational differentiations or otherwise risked violation of this constitutional prohibition.
